

AGROPHILIA

INDIAN GROWN SUPERFOOD SEEDS

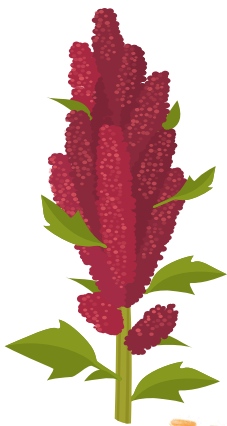

INTRODUCTION

Agrophilia is a leading quinoa and superfood seeds processing company headquartered in Jaipur, Rajasthan, India. The company was incorporated in 2017 and is vertically integrated from field to fork. Our markets include retail, institutional supplies, traders and food manufacturers.

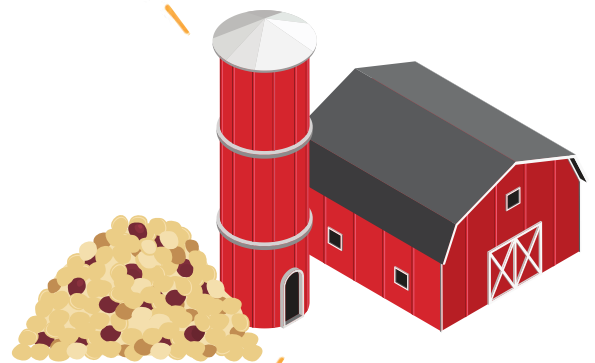

We have a wide farmer network, growing the choicest quinoa and superfood seeds.

PRODUCT ROADMAP

Grown in arid state of Rajasthan, Quinoa requires less water than other crops, thus encouraging our network of farmers to cultivate Quinoa. We believe in fair trade, and guarantee a minimum price to safeguard them. Our field officers regularly check on crops to ensure optimum methods are used during cultivation.

After the harvest, we do a grading of the seeds before receiving it at our facility. The seeds are then checked for any microbial activity. After ensuring the quality of the batch, we take it further processing. Our Quinoa seeds are free from saponin and sortex cleaned.

After the strict quality checks in our processing stages, we pack our products in different packagings as per our customer's requirement. The packed products are stored in a hermetically sealed, dark and cool place ready to be shipped. We offer white label packaging as well as bulk packaging in PP or paper bags.

FOUNDER'S NOTE

Hi, I am Siddharth the founder of AGROPHILIA. I always had a passion for healthy food but was always set aback cause of their inflated prices. Why charge more just cause it has a healthy tag? Well i wanted to change that, so i founded this company with an aim to educate people about healthy vegan food products and provide them at a cost where they could easily make that switch.
